One of our favorite things to do after Christmas is enjoy the last 5 days of Silver Dollar City's Old Time Christmas.

I truly believe that this is the most wonderful time of the year...but after all the parties, cookie exchanges, shopping, making my list and checking it twice, it's great to leave all that behind and head to the City one last time for the season.

So, if you're feeling like you're in a "holiday fog" my advice is to lace up your tennis shoes and head down to the City! Not only will you walk off some of the eggnog and sweets but you'll enjoy all the beautiful lights one last time until next year's An Old Time Christmas! For our family, it's a great time to reflect on all the great memories we've had this past year and look ahead to all the fun and surprises in 2010. Silver Dollar City is open December 26th through December 30th. Don't miss out!!
