

Kids' Fest Ends August 10th! Don't Miss It!

Contributed by Noel Perkin
Monday, 04 August 2008

A Mom's Reminder: If you've been waiting for just the right time to go to Silver Dollar City's Kids Fest this Summer then YOU NEED TO KNOW that Kids Fest ends August 10th!

We've been a couple of times already and plan to go a couple of more before it ends to see the all-new VeggieTales show again (my son loved it!) and hit the Kids' Concoction Barn to enjoy all his favorite activities. We haven't seen the Ice Circus yet and I know I'm due for a win in a game of Tic-Tac-Toe on the City Square!

Plus, there's a new section in J.J. Fiddlesticks Toy Shop called Keep Arctic Alive we want to check out. They have cute and cuddly toy animals with stories about global warming and it's effects on Arctic life. And they have items that can be personalized like piggy-banks, pictures frames and room signs. You can find cool things for tweens too, like Hanna Montana and High School Musical merchandise. Plus VeggieTales items, vintage collectibles and old time games we'd remember from our childhood like Chinese Checkers and more. The Schleich Wild West, Farm Life and World of Knights models are realistic and worth a look-see!

Don't miss out on all the fun! School starts soon so get out and have a ball...you're kids will remember it all year long!